WELCOME TO, SAKHA TRUST

 Sakha Trust – Born from Friendship, Grown with Purpose

Sakha Trust started in 2024, not as an NGO, but as a small group of 12 friends with one belief — that real change begins with standing beside someone, like a true Sakha (friend).

No office. No funds. Just a will to act.

From teaching children under open skies to helping families in need, our actions spoke louder than any structure. Within a year, the spirit united over 200+ volunteers, turning small steps into a powerful journey.

Sakha Trust is more than just an organization — it is a movement, a vision, and a collective spirit born on 12th September 2024 with just 12 passionate individuals, now grown into a vibrant family of 40+ dedicated volunteers. Rooted in the heart of Uttarakhand, Sakha Trust stands as a symbol of hope, service, and empowerment. From the banks of the Rishna to the heights of Kedarnath, our mission is inspired by the land, nurtured by its people, and powered by the will to make a difference.

Our team is driven by the power of youth, guided by compassion, and united under a common cause: to create a better, cleaner, stronger tomorrow — together.

I am Dev, President of Sakha Trust, a youth-led organization dedicated to empowering young people and providing free services to the nation. Our mission is to create a ripple effect in society by making youth aware and self-reliant.

Group discussion

Group Discussion Activity by Sakha Trust

At Sakha Trust, we believe that every big change begins with a conversation. That's why we regularly organize Group Discussion sessions on different topics, at different times, to spark awareness and understanding in society.

These gatherings are not just about speaking and listening—they are about sharing perspectives, questioning old beliefs, and discovering new ideas together. From animal welfare to women's empowerment, from health and education to environment and youth issues, every discussion opens a new window of thought.

What makes these sessions truly special is the energy in the room. People come with their own stories, experiences, and opinions, and leave with something greater—a sense of clarity, confidence, and connection. Slowly, these conversations are shaping a community that is more thoughtful, more aware, and more willing to act for change.

For us at Sakha Trust, a group discussion is more than just an activity—it is a small revolution of ideas, and each voice matters in building the society we all dream of.

Awareness session

Spreading Light, Sparking Minds

Sakha Club works with the belief that awareness is the first step towards change. Every initiative we take is not just about sharing information but about opening minds, breaking stereotypes, and igniting the spark of responsibility in society. Alongside these collective efforts, we also hold space for individuals who need guidance and support through our counselling sessions.

Voices That Awaken Society

Through a range of awareness programs, the club touches upon different issues that shape our present and future. From health, education, and environment to women empowerment and animal welfare, each session is designed to connect deeply with people. Street plays, open talks, poster exhibitions, and interactive workshops make these programs lively and impactful. Every activity ends with a call to action, ensuring participants don't just listen—but take the message back to their homes and communities.

Conversations That Heal

While awareness is about society, counselling is about the individual. Sakha Club creates safe and confidential spaces where people can share their struggles, doubts, and fears without hesitation. Whether it is stress, career confusion, emotional imbalance, or self-doubt, our counselling sessions provide thoughtful guidance and practical solutions. These sessions are not just about advice—they are about listening, understanding, and helping people rebuild their confidence.

Changing Lives, One Step at a Time

By blending community awareness with personal counselling, Sakha Club ensures that both the outer world and the inner self are nurtured. Awareness gives knowledge, counselling gives strength—and together, they create a society that is compassionate, empowered, and ready for the future.

Education

Education and Learning - A Journey with Sakha

For me, being part of Sakha's Education Department has been a journey of discovery, hope, and transformation. Every time we organize a session or interact with students, I realize how powerful education truly is—not just as a tool for knowledge, but as a way to open minds and hearts. Through our work, I've seen young children light up with curiosity, teenagers gain confidence in their dreams, and even parents recognize the value of learning in their daily lives.

Our goal has never been limited to teaching from books. We strive to inspire, guide, and support. Whether it's mentoring students in making career choices, helping them develop skills for the future, or simply encouraging them to believe in themselves, every small step matters. Providing study materials to those who cannot afford them, conducting interactive learning sessions, and making education fun and engaging are not just activities—they are moments where we can see a change happening, one life at a time.

Being part of this journey makes me feel connected to something bigger than myself. Each smile, each question, each success story reminds me that education is more than lessons; it's empowerment, it's confidence, and it's hope. Through the Education Department, Sakha is not just spreading knowledge—it's nurturing dreams, shaping futures, and creating a community where learning truly transforms lives.

"Every mind we touch, every life we inspire, is a step towards a brighter future."

"Education is not just learning facts; it is the unlocking of potential, the awakening of minds, and the foundation of a stronger society."

Education at Sakha is more than teaching; it's about creating opportunities and igniting curiosity. Every initiative, whether it's a mentoring session, a workshop, or simply a conversation with a child, is driven by the belief that learning can change lives. I've witnessed how a little guidance, encouragement, or access to resources can transform hesitation into confidence and confusion into clarity. For many students, our sessions are not just about academics—they are about finding their voice, discovering their potential, and believing that they can dream bigger. Being part of this journey has taught me that education is not just about passing exams; it's about empowering hearts, shaping mindsets, and giving wings to aspirations that might have otherwise gone unnoticed.

Nature walk

“A Walk into Nature’s Heart: Sakha Trust’s Nature Walk”

Sakha Trust recently organized an enlightening nature walk that brought together volunteers, nature enthusiasts, and curious minds to reconnect with the environment around them. The walk was not just a leisurely stroll through greenery; it was an immersive experience designed to awaken awareness about the importance of preserving our natural heritage.

As participants embarked on the trail, they were greeted by the serene sounds of birds, the gentle rustle of leaves, and the fresh, earthy fragrance of the surroundings. Experienced guides from the trust led the walk, pointing out various plants, trees, and birds, while sharing fascinating insights about local flora and fauna. Each step became a lesson in ecology, biodiversity, and the delicate balance of our ecosystem.

The nature walk also highlighted pressing environmental issues affecting Uttarakhand, including deforestation, pollution, and habitat destruction. Participants were encouraged to observe not just the beauty of nature but also the subtle signs of its distress. Discussions during the walk emphasized sustainable practices, the importance of reducing waste, and the role each individual can play in conservation.

Children and young volunteers were particularly engaged through interactive activities such as identifying plants, spotting birds, and understanding the connection between human actions and environmental health. The walk culminated with a reflective session where participants shared their learnings and pledged small, actionable steps to protect nature in their daily lives.

Through this initiative, Sakha Trust successfully blended education, awareness, and community engagement, reaffirming its commitment to empowering people to care for the environment. The nature walk was not just an event but a movement—a gentle reminder that nature .

Cultural Activities

“Celebrating Roots: Sakha Trust’s Cultural Initiatives”

Sakha Trust has always been dedicated to nurturing a deep sense of cultural pride among communities, and its cultural activities are a testament to this mission. Through various events, workshops, and performances, the trust actively promotes the richness of Indian culture while also shining a spotlight on the unique traditions of Uttarakhand.

From classical dance performances and folk music evenings to storytelling sessions and local handicraft exhibitions, Sakha Trust creates platforms for artists and community members to showcase their talents. These activities not only entertain but also educate participants about India’s diverse heritage, encouraging appreciation and preservation of cultural values. The trust pays special attention to Uttarakhand’s traditions—its folk songs, traditional dances like Chholiya and Barada Nati, regional crafts, and festivals are celebrated with enthusiasm, reminding the younger generation of their roots.

In addition to performances, the trust organizes interactive workshops where participants learn traditional art forms, culinary practices, and local rituals. Such immersive experiences bridge the gap between generations, ensuring that cultural knowledge is passed down and adapted in modern contexts. By integrating cultural awareness into its programs, Sakha Trust fosters unity, pride, and a sense of belonging while promoting sustainable cultural practices.

Through these initiatives, Sakha Trust is not only celebrating culture but also inspiring communities to embrace their heritage and carry forward the legacy of Indian and Uttarakhand traditions.

Drawing Competition

T

"Unleashing Talent: Sakha Trust's Skills Activities"

Sakha Trust believes that every individual carries unique talents, and nurturing these skills is essential for personal growth and community development. To encourage creativity, confidence, and self-expression, the trust regularly organizes skills-based activities, including drawing competitions, craft workshops, and creative challenges for participants of all ages.

Drawing competitions have been a particularly popular initiative, allowing children, youth, and even adults to explore their imagination and showcase their artistic abilities. These events are designed not only to celebrate talent but also to encourage critical thinking, attention to detail, and innovative expression. Themes often reflect cultural heritage, social issues, environmental awareness, or personal aspirations, helping participants connect their creativity with meaningful messages.

Beyond competitions, the trust also conducts skill-building workshops, mentoring sessions, and interactive activities that help participants refine their abilities and gain confidence. By providing a supportive environment, Sakha Trust ensures that every participant feels valued and motivated to continue developing their skills.

These initiatives play a crucial role in building a sense of achievement and community spirit, while also uncovering hidden talents that may otherwise remain unnoticed. Through such programs, Sakha Trust empowers individuals to express themselves, embrace their potential, and contribute positively to society.

Health Care

Empowering Communities Through Health: Soccer Trusts Lead the Way

Soccer trusts are not just shaping athletes—they are shaping healthier communities. Recognizing that well-being is the foundation of progress, these trusts have been actively organizing healthcare camps that reach out to those who need it most. From blood donation drives to vision screenings and support for differently-abled individuals, their initiatives combine compassion with practical impact.

Blood donation camps organized by these trusts bring together players, volunteers, and community members to contribute to life-saving causes. Each drop of blood collected holds the promise of hope and recovery for patients in hospitals, fostering a spirit of empathy and civic responsibility among participants.

Eye check-up camps are another vital endeavor. Many community members, especially in underprivileged areas, often struggle with preventable vision issues. Through comprehensive screenings and timely guidance, soccer trusts help individuals regain clarity, improve their quality of life, and prevent long-term complications.

Furthermore, the trusts extend their support to differently-abled individuals by distributing essential tools and aids. Wheelchairs, walking sticks, and other assistive devices not only enhance mobility but also empower recipients to lead more independent lives. These gestures of care demonstrate that the spirit of sportsmanship goes beyond the field—it thrives in creating opportunities, health, and dignity for everyone.

Tree plantation

Sowing Seeds of Hope: Sakha Trust's Tree Plantation Drive

Sakha Trust is committed to nurturing not just communities, but the environment that sustains them. In line with this vision, the Trust recently organized a tree plantation drive, bringing together volunteers, local residents, and nature enthusiasts in a collective effort to make Uttarakhand greener and healthier.

The drive was more than just planting saplings; it was a step toward combating climate change, restoring ecological balance, and creating spaces where future generations can breathe clean air and enjoy nature's beauty. Volunteers planted a variety of native trees, carefully selected to support local biodiversity and strengthen the region's natural resilience.

Beyond the environmental impact, the plantation drive fostered awareness about the importance of trees in our daily lives. It inspired participants, especially youth, to take responsibility for protecting nature and highlighted the role of community action in driving meaningful change.

Through initiatives like this, Sakha Trust is not only contributing to a greener planet but also planting the seeds of environmental consciousness in the hearts of the people, proving that every small effort counts toward building a sustainable future.

Animal Care

Compassion in Action: Sakha Trust's Animal Care Drive

Sakha Trust is devoted to spreading kindness to all living beings, and its recent animal care drive stands as a testament to this commitment. With a focus on nurturing and protecting animals, the drive brought together volunteers to provide essential care to both domestic and stray animals in the community.

The initiative included feeding drives for dogs and cows, ensuring that these animals receive nutritious food regularly. Stray dogs, often left to fend for themselves, were given proper meals and attention, while cows, integral to local life and culture, were cared for with love and respect. These efforts not only address immediate needs but also foster a culture of empathy and responsibility toward animals.

Volunteers went beyond feeding, interacting with the animals to ensure they were healthy and comfortable. This drive also emphasized awareness about animal welfare, encouraging the community to take an active role in protecting and respecting all creatures.

Through such compassionate actions, Sakha Trust is creating a safer, healthier environment for animals while inspiring humans to embrace empathy and kindness. The trust proves that when communities come together for a cause, even small efforts can make a profound difference in the lives of animals.

After the first year, the study found that the average number of prescriptions filled per month was 1.2 for the group that received the computerized system, compared with 1.1 for the group that received the standard system. The difference was not statistically significant. The researchers say the lack of difference may be because the computerized system was not used to its full potential. "It's a very powerful tool, but it's not being used to its full potential," says Dr. Mark S. Sparer, a professor of clinical pharmacology at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.
